

PRATT INDUSTRIES, RECYCLING DIVISION HEADQUARTERED IN CONYERS, GA

CLOSING THE LOOP

Founded in 1989, Pratt Industries has become one of the largest privately owned recyclers and closed-material-loop paper and packaging manufacturers in the world. Pratt offers fully-integrated recycling programs, consisting of diverting recyclable materials and utilizing them as a resource for the manufacture of a myriad of 100% recycled content packaging solutions. This is typically referred to as closed loop recycling, or cradle-to-cradle product design.

RECYCLING SOLUTIONS

Pratt Industries' Recycling Division currently has recycling facilities located in; Atlanta, GA, Columbia, SC, Conyers, GA, Denton, TX, Fayetteville, NC, Greenville, SC, Memphis, TN, Nashville, TN, Savannah, GA, Shreveport, LA, Island, NY and Winston-Salem, NC.

Pratt Industries offers a while range of recycling including residential recycling programs with stream capabilities, comprehensive commercial industrial recycling programs, as well as school recycling programs.

12

Staten

services single-and

The recyclable fiber generated from our recycling programs is utilized within Pratt Industries at our 3 mills, 24 sheet planted and 10 corrugating box plants, employing 3500 green collar workers to produce our 100% recycled content packaging solutions.

COMMITMENT TO SUSTAINABILITY

Pratt is committed to sustainability and environmental stewardship. Every year, Pratt currently recycles around 1.8 million tons of waste paper – the equivalent of 31 million trees. In addition, Pratt recycles plastics, aluminum, steel and glass. Pratt also diverts another 250,000 tons of materials, which would otherwise be landfilled, to feed our clean energy plant in Conyers, GA. These materials include non-recyclable plastics, wood-waste, carpeting, and rejected materials from paper mills, among other things. That's good news for the planet, good news for customers while conserving energy within the communities in which we operate.

CLINTON GLOBAL INITIATIVE

In 2007 Anthony Pratt, owner of Pratt Industries made a commitment at the Clinton Global Initiative to invest $1 Billion in recycling and green energy infrastructure within ten years. We are making good on our pledge.

Contact Pratt Recycling at www.prattindustries.com or call 1-888-347-7288 or recyclingcs@prattindustries.com